

originalsmoker

The Original Bradley Smoker is the unique smoke house system for hot and cold smoking, in production since 1999. Flavour Bisquettes are burned for 20 minutes each at a consistent temperature within the unit's smoke generator, producing clean continuous smoke, thus eliminating the high temperature gases, acids and resins that can distort the flavour of smoked food. It is light enough to carry and is about the size of a small fridge.

PRODUCT CODE: BT1SCE240 RRP: £333 inc VAT

stainlesssteelsmoker

The Bradley Stainless Steel Smoker comes as the result of demand from commercial caterers and others for the Original Bradley Smoker to be fabricated in stainless steel. Apart from the finish, the stainless steel model is identical to the Original Bradley Smoker.

PRODUCT CODE: BTSTCE240 RRP: £442 inc VAT

digitalsmoker4rack

The 4-rack Digital Smoker includes all the features of the Original Bradley Smoker, along with the benefits of digital technology. Temperature, time and smoke are now completely controllable so that you can decide how much smoke you want, for how long your food is going to be smoked, and at what temperature.

PRODUCT CODE: BTDS76CE RRP: £437 inc VAT

digitalsmoker6rack

The 6-rack Digital Smoker includes all the features of the 4-rack version but with increased cooking space. Perfect for semi commercial use in farm shops or for anyone who want to smoke that much more in one session.

smokegenerator

Don't throw away that old fridge! Turn it into a smoke house with the Bradley Smoke Generator with Adaptor. Identical to the smoke generator which is included with the Bradley Stainless Steel Smoker, it is supplied with an adaptor for connection to any suitable structure. Blue print to build your own smoke-house is included.

PRODUCT CODE: BTSGCE240 RRP: £172 inc VAT

flavourbisquettes®

The secret to the Bradley Smoker is the Bradley Flavour Bisquettes®. To produce the bisquettes, the hardwood chippings are bound together using precise quantities, at controlled pressures and densities. The flavour of the smoke is determined by the variety of wood being burned.

- Alder and maple give a rich and distinct flavour commonly used with seafood hams and bacon.
- The stronger and very distinct flavours of mesquite and hickory are commonly used for smoking beef and pork products such as pork shoulders and beef brisket.
- Apple and cherry impart a sweeter, milder smoke flavour, commonly used with poultry and wild game meat.

The Bradley Smoker burns a flavour bisquette once every 20 minutes producing a clean smoke flavour. As each is burnt, it is gently pushed from the burner element by the next bisquette, to be extinguished in the pot of water. The cycle continues for as long as the Bradley Smoker is loaded with bisquettes.

When wood burns the smoke flavour is produced in the initial minutes of the burn. Once the wood generates enough heat to keep burning on its own, it yields high temperatures, acids, resins and gases. These will distort the flavour and the appearance of smoked food. When wood burns to this stage there is no control over the cooking conditions. With Bradley Flavour Bisquettes the guesswork is eliminated.

Not only do Bradley Flavour Bisquettes eliminate unwanted heat, smoke produced the Bradley way is four times cleaner than smoke produced by identical loose chips burned in a fry-pan or burn-box.

The Bradley Smoker consumes bisquettes at the rate of approximately one every 20 minutes. Operating costs of the smoker are therefore less than a pound (£ GBP) per hour.
